

Everything that is seen is not truth, for truth cannot be seen it can only be...

Therefore even the perceived truth of this statement is not true